DETAILED ACTION

Receipt for Extension of Time and Amendment A received on October 10, 2002 is acknowledged. Claims 1-5 and 7 are included in the prosecution of this application. Claim 6 is canceled.

Response to Arguments

Applicant argues that the composition is applied to hair that is shampooed and excess water is squeezed. It is argued that such a process does not describe a method in which the hair treatment is applied to dry hair.

The examiner points out that the instant method claims recite the claims language "comprising", which does not exclude the steps of shampooing the hair and squeezing out the excess water. Further, as pointed out by the applicant, Altobelli teaches the process of squeezing out excess water; therefore yielding sufficiently dry hair. The examiner points out that instant claims do not recite absolute dry hair; therefore Altobelli is said to anticipate the instant invention. In regards to the water content, Altobelli clearly envisages the instant 20% water as evidenced in column 4, line 63, column 9, line 22, and claim 1. Further, Altobelli teaches a primary example (1 and 2) and variations using the base composition (examples 3-26).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Rejection of claims 1-5 are maintained and new claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Altobelli et al (5110318).

Altobelli et al teaches a composition and method for coloring/conditioning hair. The composition contains oil (instant range), glycerin (solvent), and water (Note examples). The method of use involves covering the treated hair with a cap and heating the hair for 13-30 minutes at 80-120 Fahrenheit under a heated salon hood (col.6, lines 29-44).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
